

Re: Looking for the copyright holder for t1 yfonts

Subject: Re: Looking for the copyright holder for t1 yfonts
From: Torsten Bronger <bronger@physik.rwth-aachen.de>
Date: 09/28/2016 11:44 AM
To: Tom Callaway <tcallawa@redhat.com>

Hallöchen!

Tom Callaway writes:

[...]

The license for the non-type 1 versions of yfonts is the LaTeX Project Public License. Would you be willing to give permission for us to distribute the yfonts-t1 files (as found here: <http://ctan.sharelatex.com/tex-archive/systems/texlive/tlnet/archive/yfonts-t1.tar.xz>) under the terms of the LaTeX Project Public License?

Alternately, any compatible Free Software license would work, but LPPL just keeps it simple.

If such a statement in an email is enough, I hereby give you the permission to distribute yfonts-t1 under the terms of the LaTeX Project Public License. (Otherwise, I have to re-release it, which is some work after all these years.)

Regards,
Torsten Bronger.

--

Torsten Bronger Jabber ID: torsten.bronger@jabber.rwth-aachen.de